MEMBERSHIP IN TOASTMASTERS INTERNATIONAL <http://www.toastmasters.org/>

Most careers and businesses require an ability to communicate, and this is an area in which many people feel uncomfortable. Membership in Toastmasters provides an atmosphere that will encourage you, increase your self-confidence, and allow you the opportunity to share ideas with people from all walks of life and all areas of business.

INCREASE YOUR TECHNOLOGY I.Q.

Awareness, knowledge, and application of technology is required to expand and enhance your personal, professional and business relationships. One of the most effective and cost-effective methods of increasing your technology IQ is a close association with Information System Professionals. Membership and active involvement in BDPA Information System Technology Leaders (<http://www.bdpa.org>) is highly recommended.

FORMAL AND INFORMAL ASSOCIATION WITH OTHERS THAT ARE DOING WHAT YOU WANT TO DO.

Associating with others that are doing what you do (or want to do) allow you to benefit from the ideas of others, and at the same time “give back” to those who may benefit from what you already know. None of us knows exactly what the other knows. Association of this type creates a form of synergism where the sum of available knowledge and ideas is greater than the sum of its parts. When two individuals each have an idea that they discuss and reflect upon, other thoughts and ideas are often generated that would have otherwise remained dormant. My firm belief in this is reflected in my second book entitled The Power of Association.

SEEK DIRECT HELP – ASK AND YOU MAY RECEIVE

While direct help sometimes come with a price tag, there are times and circumstances that occur where your question, challenge or request simply needs to be made known. If and when you become stuck, ASK! The answer to your question may be absolutely free. The “worst” thing that can happen is that someone will want to “sell you” their time and knowledge. And that may not be a bad thing. Good advice from knowledgeable and compassionate consultants can often save money along with time, the resource that money cannot buy.

WE ARE IN THE BUSINESS OF HELPING OTHERS

If we cannot help, we will do our best to refer you to someone in our vast network that we feel can be of value to you. Your initial investment only requires that you ask!
